This full-day seminar on successful grant writing will address both conceptual and practical aspects. It will emphasize idea development, how to write for reviewers, as well as tips and strategies that kept the presenter, Stephen Russell, D.V.M., Ph.D., funded continuously throughout his 30 year research career. The presentation is designed to be maximally informative while, at the same time, entertaining. Because emphasis is on the principles and fundamentals of good proposal writing, the seminar is applicable to any granting agency and any discipline. Plenty of time will be allowed for questions and discussion. An extensive handout and examples that illustrate points made in the seminar will help to ensure that there will be maximal gain for the time invested. Attendance at this program is a prerequisite for participation in the follow-up, Mentored Proposal-Writing Workshop Series: Write and Submit a Competitive Grant Application.
